To me, marketing's about values. This is very complicated world, it's a very noisy world. And we're not going to get a chance to get people to remember much about us. No company does. And so we have to be really clear on what we want them to know about us.

Library Levy Passing!

Saturday, August 21st, 2010

The Library Levy is passing with 59.11%! There are only a handful of ballots left to count, so the percentage is unlikely to change.

Thank You!

The ballots are counted and the voters said YES!!

In ads that will appear next week in the Sequim Gazette, Forks Forum and Peninsula Daily News, we will be sending heartfelt thanks to the voters for assuring a strong and stable library system for years to come.

Of course, this victory would not have been possible without each of you. You came to campaign kickoff meetings, put up large and small signs, wore buttons, showed your support at public forums, authored letters to the editor, waved signs, added your names to endorsement ads, gave money to the campaign and energized your friends and neighbors to vote for the levy lid lift. Your passion and hard work on behalf of improved library services will enhance the quality of life throughout our County.

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!

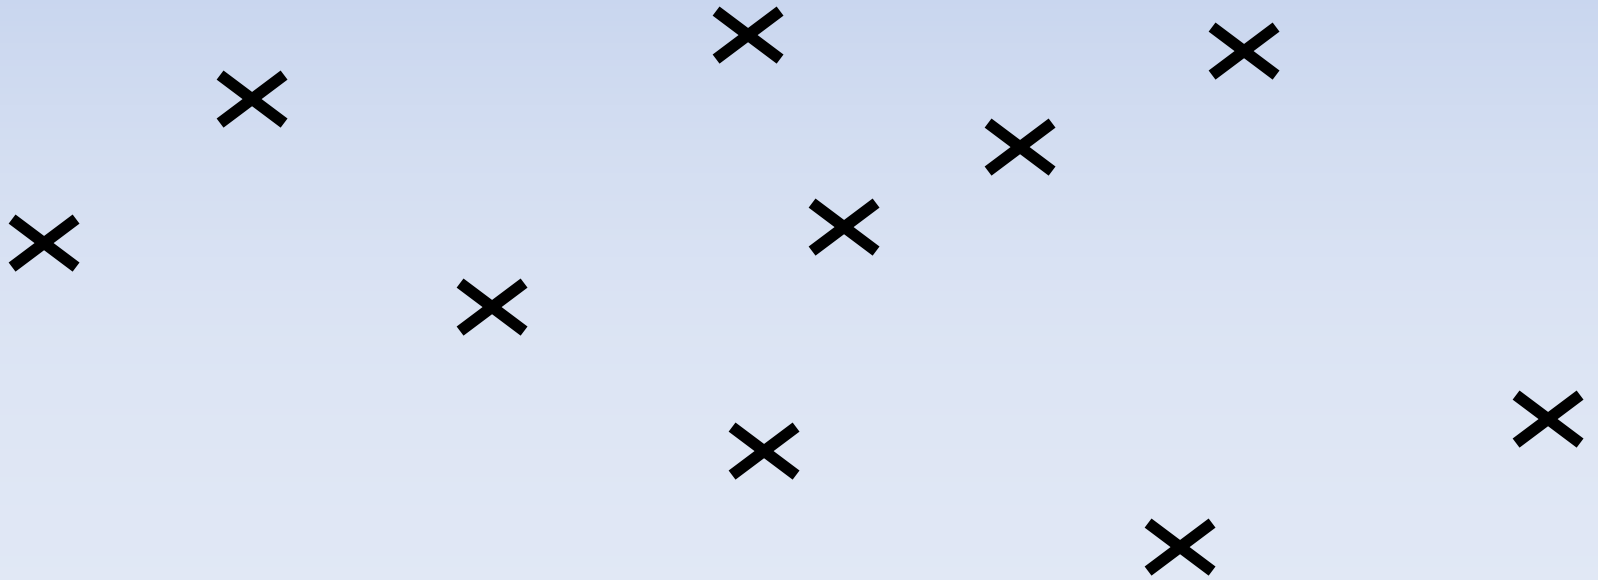

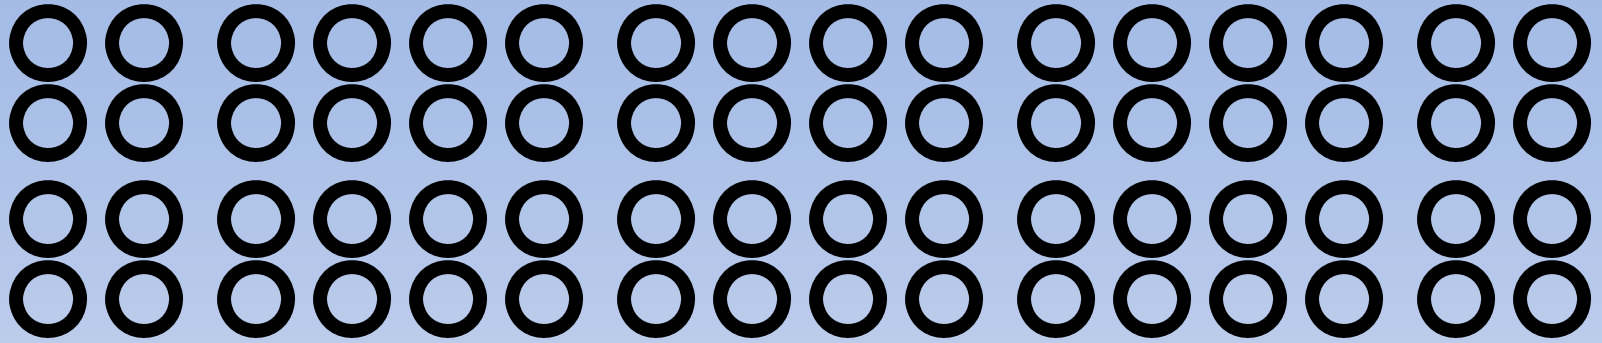

Want to Stay Involved?

Do you want to stay involved in the Library now that the campaign is over? Here are some ways:

- Not yet a member of the Friends of the Library? Here's how to join:

Libraries won again, thanks to all your support

Submitted by rss on Mon, 03/21/2011 - 21:46

To those of you who took the time to go out to the polls on Tuesday, March 8, 2011 -- especially those who cast a yes vote for libraries and Measure L -- we salute you. The landslide victory of this progressive civic measure ensures that Sunday/Monday library closures will soon be a thing of the past, the laid-off employees (28% of LAPL staff) will get their jobs back, and that no future Mayor will be able to balance his budget at the expense of that essential public good: a free public library for Los Angeles. We woke up Wednesday morning to a more hopeful city, something that doesn't happen nearly often enough. It felt great--let's make a habit of it.

This website will remain online as a tool to protect our libraries should they ever again be at risk, something that seems a lot less likely after the passage of Measure L.

Dedicated Tax Line for NJ Public and Joint Libraries

UPDATE:

We are pleased to announce Governor Christie signed the Municipal Library Tax Levy Law (S2068/A2679). The passage of this legislation was extremely important to NJLA because it treats communities which support municipal and joint libraries the same as those which support county libraries.

The primary sponsors of this legislation were Senator Nia Gill and Assemblymen Upendra Chivukula, Ruben Ramos and Assemblywoman Valerie Vainieri Huttle. Additional sponsors were: Senator Sandra Cunningham on the Senate side and on the Assembly side Assemblyman John McKeon, Jason O'Donnell, Thomas Giblin and Assemblywomen Amy Handlin and Mila Jasey. Former Assemblyman Frederick Scalera was also a sponsor.

We are very thankful for the efforts of all these legislators in getting this bill passed.

1. This bill requires municipalities in which a free public library is located, or that belong to a joint municipal library, to provide for a dedicated library purposes tax on the property tax bill.
2. The bill removes the appropriations for municipal libraries and joint municipal libraries from a municipality's general fund.
3. Under this legislation local municipal caps will be recalculated so that they do not include the 1/3 mil dedicated library funding.
4. Any funding above 1/3 mil would have to be included in the municipality's cap.
5. The legislation provides fiscal parity for communities which support municipal and joint libraries with those that support a county library system. Each was established by referendum.
6. Under previous law, only property taxpayers in a municipality which belonged to a county library received property tax bills which include a line item showing the amount the taxpayer is paying to support the county library. This will now also be done for communities which support municipal and joint libraries. The legislation provides fiscal transparency for library funding.

Library Levy Passing!

Saturday, August 21st, 2010

The Library Levy is passing with 59.11%! There are only a handful of ballots left to count, so the percentage is unlikely to change.

Thank You!

The ballots are counted and the voters said YES!!

In ads that will appear next week in the Sequim Gazette, Forks Forum and Peninsula Daily News, we will be sending heartfelt thanks to the voters for assuring a strong and stable library system for years to come.

Of course, this victory would not have been possible without each of you. You came to campaign kickoff meetings, put up large and small signs, wore buttons, showed your support at public forums, authored letters to the editor, waved signs, added your names to endorsement ads, gave money to the campaign and energized your friends and neighbors to vote for the levy lid lift. Your passion and hard work on behalf of improved library services will enhance the quality of life throughout our County.

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!

SAVE LOUIS THE LOUISIANA LIBRARY NETWORK

SAVE EDUCATION

You may lose the journals & resources you need.

Some time ago, libraries began using less print materials and more online database, allowing faster access from anywhere. But what if you couldn't get your journals online either? It could happen.

Academic library databases cost a lot of money, and LOUIS: The Louisiana Library Network makes it possible for over 47 Louisiana academic libraries to afford them. However, funding for LOUIS has been cut, threatening academic research and education in Louisiana.

LLA's Legislative Day, May 5th

published by admin-savelouis on Tue, 05/10/2011 - 13:48

On May 5th 2011, The Louisiana Library Association had its "Legislative Day," with many librarians going to Baton Rouge to demonstrate the importance of all kinds of libraries-- and that includes academic libraries, so that includes LOUIS! Supporters at the event carried LOUIS fans donated by Gale/Cengage. Here are two photos taken by Laura McLemore of LSUS:

LOUIS Funding Updates

saveLOUIS.org

LOUIS: The Louisiana Library Network is a partnership with Academic Libraries, State and Private Libraries, Museums and Archives. With a centralized support staff of seven, commonly referred to as "LOUIS" and located on the LSU campus, LOUIS combines the collective resources to produce a dynamic library consortium. It provides information technology solutions to consortium members in a cloud computing environment: an integrated library system (ILS), a digital library, interlibrary loan, electronic scholarly resources, consulting, authentication, training, communication, and operational support. Established in 1992 by LALINC, LOUIS has 47 members and receives approximately $3 million annually in grants and membership fees to support consortium activity.

So, the libraries grouped together and used their power to cut costs for providing services to students, thus Louis? Is this "Louis" being cut because of budget issues? 6 hours ago

- Yes, that's what LOUIS does, and it is being cut because of budget problems. Which is odd, because it was made to save money, and being able to afford resources could mean losing them, which could mean losing accreditation, which would lose money also... etc... savelouis.org can explain more.

You should post this to the Academic Libraries FB group, if you haven't already 😊 5 hours ago

I think this topic is a noble one and ripe for discussion given the Louisiana budget crisis, but whoever included everyone in their contact list violated their Facebook user agreement big time. Just sayin... 44 minutes ago

Karen Niemla Well, it wasn't me who sent it. If you're talking about the "You will not send or otherwise post unauthorized commercial communications (such as spam) on Facebook." part of the agreement, I assume that she just didn't think it was spam when she sent it. 26 minutes ago

No biggie, I'm sure it was a mistake. 20 minutes ago

EVERYONE: I'M SORRY. JUST STOP HITTING "REPLY ALL" AND WALK AWAY FROM ALL OF THIS, OK? I really don't need this right now. I have enough stress worrying about my father who is in the hospital right now without a bunch of you complaining about a few messages in your facebook inbox. I'm sorry I even bothered sending a message about an issue that was important to me (and important to my colleague who asked me to send it). It was something I did today to help get my mind off other worries but it totally backfired. Lesson learned: never use Facebook's crappy messaging feature and never send messages to 100 people at once. And if you don't see the "Actions" menu with the "leave conversation" link its because Facebook hasn't rolled out the new messaging system for everyone yet. It's glitchy and it only has a "reply all" button and I had no idea this would happen or that people would get chatty about this and all this crud would happen. Sorry. ~Rebecca 44 seconds ago

Some time ago, libraries began using less print materials and more online database, allowing faster access from anywhere. But what if you couldn't get your journals online either? It could happen.

Without LOUIS, LSU risks losing its status as an academic and research university and with that, millions and millions - perhaps billions - of dollars in research grant funding that comes from out-of-state sources and all of which is spent right here, in our state.

Sigh. It seems like we just finished fighting this battle. Politicians and bean counters cannot be counted on to have insights into what makes a viable higher education system, nor can they be counted on to even listen to those that do. I came to LSU with the assumption that the state would do what is necessary to support a viable research university. I guess the joke is on me.

The Regents should READ the budget BEFORE cutting line items. LOUIS is the most important purchasing consortium the state of Louisiana has. Investing in LOUIS actually makes money if you pause to think of all the external grant applications to NIH, NSF, DOL, etc. that were written using citations and articles from LOUIS databases!

SAVE EDUCATION

To Whom it may concern:

This press kit has been created to inform you of what LOUIS is, why it is important, and that it is in danger of being lost due to budget cuts. Unlike many budgetary expenses, LOUIS was created to save the state of Louisiana money.

In a nutshell, a library consortium is a group of libraries that join together to share costs and increase their bargaining power. LOUIS: The Louisiana Library Network does this, allowing academic libraries in Louisiana to afford expensive database products.

However, The Louisiana Board of Regents want to cut funding for LOUIS, which would leave each state university institution to try to pay for them on their own. If they cannot afford to pay, they will have to go without some resources, and students might not be able to graduate.

SAVE LOUIS SO LOUIS CAN SAVE YOU money!

SAVE EDUCATION

You may lose the journals & resources you need.
Some time ago, libraries began using less print materials and more online databases, allowing faster access from anywhere. But what if you couldn't get your journals online either? It could happen.

Academic library databases cost a lot of money and LOUIS: The Louisiana Library Network makes it possible for over 47 Louisiana academic libraries to afford them. However, funding for LOUIS has been cut, threatening academic research and education in Louisiana.

LLA's Legislative Day, May 5th
published by admin on 05/05/11 at 11:13 AM

On May 5th 2011, The Louisiana Library Association had its "Legislative Day," with many librarians going to Baton Rouge to demonstrate the importance of all kinds of libraries – and that includes academic libraries, so that includes LOUIS! Supporters at the event carried LOUIS fans donated by Gale/Cengage. Here are two photos taken by Laura McLemore of LSUS:
